You don't have to cope alone. We're here to help.

Once you join Alzheimer's Society you become part of a powerful network of support. You'll find there is always someone to turn to, whatever help and advice you need.

Why become a member?

- You will regularly receive all our latest news and updates on progress being made in dementia related research
- We'll signpost you to your local branch, which can offer practical support, advice and contact with people in a similar situation to you
- Each month you will receive our magazine, Living with dementia
- We'll alert you to helpful fact sheets from our website, with information on all aspects of dementia
- You will receive our publications catalogue and cards and gifts catalogue
- Our Dementia Helpline offers confidential support and guidance from trained advisers

Your membership will also help ensure we are there for people fighting dementia now - and that we continue in the search for a cure that will defeat dementia in the future.
